

FAL in the Digital Realm

Fieldwork in Anthropology and Linguistics

Monday 17 May 2021, 15:15–17:15

Zoom: uu-se.zoom.us/j/65970315247

Join us for the next FAL event, where our speakers will explore the digital realm as a field of research.

15:15–15:20 Welcome and Introduction

15:20–15:50 Rosa de Jorio (University of North Florida)

Fieldwork with Social Media: Political Participation of/in Malian Diasporas

15:50–16:20 Maggie Glass (University of Limerick)

Stalking Hashtags: Examining language policy in Irish micro-fandom

16:20–16:30 Break

16:30–17:00 Discussion

The network FAL: Fieldwork in Anthropology and Linguistics seeks to bring together anthropologists and linguists for whom fieldwork is a fundamental component. The world hosts an immense diversity of both cultures as well as languages, the bulk of which are rapidly disappearing in the globalized world. Hence, it is a matter of urgency that they be documented before they will be lost forever. Descriptive fieldwork is the main modus operandi and it needs to be done efficiently, ethically and dynamically responding to a changing world.

MOST WELCOME!

